

Before you connect your agent to Google Workspace in the next lesson, I strongly recommend creating a dedicated Google account just for your agent.

Don't use your personal Gmail. If your agent ever gets tricked by a prompt injection or makes a mistake, you want the damage limited to an account that only has work data in it, not your personal emails, photos, and files. Think of it like hiring someone new — you'd give them a company email, not your personal one.
