

If you're running OpenClaw locally on your own computer, you can skip the SSH and Tailscale lessons in this section. You already have direct access to your machine — just open your terminal and you're good to go. These lessons are for students running OpenClaw on a VPS.